

GOOD CAMPAIGN TALK

AND SOUND DEMOCRATIC DOCTRINE

A Splendid Speech at Old Market Hall by Hon. Holmes Conrad.—The Issues Discussed Most Ably and at Length.

There was a good audience in Old Market Hall last night to listen to the Hon. Holmes Conrad, of Winchester.

Mr. S. S. P. Patterson, chairman of the city Democratic committee, introduced him in a few words, and he was received with much applause, and said, in part:

It is an interesting inquiry why, if the apathy alleged to exist in the country regarding the election by Mr. Chauncey M. Depew does exist, the late well-known Cabinet ministers should have come out for Cleveland.

The speaker asked if there was not significance and encouragement in the fact of defections from the Republican ranks in the North such as has not been known in thirty years. Not merely the leaders, but the great mass of people, pointing to their putting aside party feeling and striking together to save the country. The causes of complaint, said the honorable gentleman, are at least two, and plain to a school boy. The first, he declared, was a violation of natural laws, in that no sort of restriction of free and open expression of the products of this open era for others should be permitted. Theories of political economists were applied of Solom. The reason for the Third party's existence is the dissatisfaction of the farmers. They are good and true, but misled. This is the result of Republican oppression. The speaker referred to the East India Company and the Corn laws of England.

A KNEE OF DUTY.

Sir Robert Peel was carried from birth till the reins of government were in his hands from a sense of duty. Then when he found his error he courageously came out for truth and justice. Mr. Conrad explained plainly and clearly the principles of the tariff, and elucidated the Democratic position regarding it at length. The speaker arraigned the record and the practices of the Republican party, and showed up their extravagance and corruption, and non-fulfillment of their duty to the people while in power.

The fact was clearly shown by the speaker that Cleveland turned over an overflowing treasury to the Republican administration when he went out of office, and that now there is an actual deficit there.

He went on to enlarge on the pension frauds, and the fact that we, of the South, paying our full share of these pension taxes, are bled and oppressed to pay the yearly increasing pensions in a most unjust and unequal way. The speaker cleverly led the attention of the audience to the measure which the Republicans call the Federal Election Law, and he said they are telling you now it is a bug-a-boo, and that said he, they are pledged to this law and its enactment. Mr. J. B. Harrison has excused it in his letter of acceptance lately. On went the speaker, and made the most forcible indictment of this most dreadful of all laws, in the shape of this Force bill, that has ever been heard in this city.

CLOSE ATTENTION.

The people hung on his words with close attention, as by argument, quotation and illustration he showed up the inwardness of the infamous Force bill. Its details and workings were fully explained, and the extraordinary and unlawful nature of the powers conferred on Federal officials were minutely shown. What a hideous, grinning mockery of the rights of suffrage will this thing be, he exclaimed. Some people may think, said he, it is impossible to believe that any political party should set their approval upon such a measure. He referred to the bill itself. Any county or city chairman will get it for you, said he, and you will find it worse, if anything, than what I tell you.

He told them the further fact that the army and navy of the United States could be summoned to enforce the provisions of this bill, as can be seen by reading it. He further showed that the statute of the United States which provides that the marshals of the United States should be chosen from the places where they are voters will be repealed.

Mr. Conrad concluded his exhortation of the Republican party in a continuance of his masterly style.

"That Girl From Mexico."—A play presented to a large and fashionable house at the Mozart Academy last evening. The play proved to be a high-class comedy, and there were many hearty laughs interlined throughout the bright thoughts. Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew were excellent. Mrs. Drew playing the title role in a splendid manner. The role is a splendid one for her excellent capabilities, and she is delightfully clever in the third act. Mr. Drew played the role of Jack Randolph, traveling for the Accident Policy Company, and searching for Diabola Smith, who proves to be the girl from Mexico. Miss Grace Morello made a pleasing Fanny Spencer. The role is very amusing in his character of Dicky Bird. As a whole, the comedy is first-class, and of a type seldom seen outside of New York. Companies like the Drew Company don't leave the large cities often.

The comedy was preceded with that charming one-act play, "In Honor Bound." It is a dainty work, and was cleverly presented.

The plays will be presented this evening, and there will be a matinee tomorrow afternoon.

For the Firemen's Fund.

Mr. George S. Shaw, assistant chief of the Fire Department, has received a letter of thanks from Mr. W. J. Whitehurst for the prompt and successful action of the department at the recent fire. A check for $100 was enclosed in the letter.

Chief Fuller yesterday turned over $28.75 to the managers of the Female Orphan Asylum, which sum has been collected among the members of the Fire Department for that deserving institution, which has recently been damaged by fire.

Hon. W. C. P. Breckinridge.

The annual meeting of the Society of the Army of Northern Virginia will be held in the hall of the House of Delegates on the evening of October 26th. Hon. W. C. P. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, will make the annual address on "The Confederate Soldier and What He Has Done in Peace."

Foot-Ball Game.

The foot-ball season will open in this city tomorrow afternoon by a game at Island Park between the team of Richmond College and that of Washington and Lee University. Both teams have been in training for some time, and a good game is expected. The College team has also dates with the University of North Carolina and Wake Forest, N. C.

No Inquest Necessary.

Dr. William H. Taylor yesterday reviewed the remains of William Hunt (colored), who died on the previous evening, as reported in The Times, from injuries received during the pulling down of a house on Second and Main streets. The coroner did not deem an inquest necessary.

Pharmaceutical Association in Petersburg.

Petersburg, Va., Oct. 13.—Special.—The Virginia State Pharmaceutical Association met in third day's session this morning at 10 o'clock, President M. E. Church in the chair. The report of the committee on resolutions, after some discussion, was adopted. The question of granting permits to druggists in small towns and country places to leave their establishments for a few days in charge of clerks whom they are willing to trust, but who are not registered, was opposed by some members and advocated by others. The whole matter was referred to the Board of Pharmacy for such action as they may deem conformable to the law.

Interesting papers were read as follows: "Relations between the pharmacist and the community," by Mr. T. Roberts Baker, of Richmond; on "Chemical force in its relations to other forms of energy," by Mr. Hugh Blair, of Richmond; "The hypophosphates, their chemistry and therapeutics," by Mr. Gordon Blair, Mr. R. H. Stratton, of Gordonsville, who was not able to be present, sent a book showing a very useful and ingenious system of filling prescriptions. After the president had appointed committees to nominate officers for the ensuing year, to designate a time and place for the next meeting, and to prepare a circular in regard to Sunday observance, the Association, at 2 o'clock, took a recess.

When the Association reassembled after the dinner recess, Mr. S. R. Beckwith, chairman of the committee on nomination of officers, made the following report:

For President, F. M. Wills, of Charlottesville; First Vice-President, J. M. Burke, of Petersburg; Second Vice-President, W. C. Burgess, of Manchester; Third Vice-President, C. P. Kearfoot, of Martinsville; Fourth Vice-President, R. G. Dalby, of Hampton; Secretary, C. R. Fleet, of Lynchburg; Corresponding Secretary, T. Roberts Baker, of Richmond; Treasurer, Charles H. Lumsden, of Lynchburg; Executive committee: George T. Markins, of Falls Church; Edgar Wardfield, of Alexandria; E. L. Robey, of Herndon. Names from which the Governor is to select two members of the Board of Pharmacy: R. H. Stratton, of Gordonsville; C. P. Kearfoot, of Martinsville; T. Ashby, of Richmond; Robert Brydon, of Darville, and R. W. Booker, of South Boston.

The following delegates were appointed to the American Pharmaceutical Association: M. E. Church, T. R. Baker, Dr. E. A. Craighill, C. B. Fleet and F. M. Wills. To the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association: T. C. Peck, W. C. Lynham and C. P. Kearfoot. The committee on questions and amendments of matters on question were given last year were continued. The Association adjourned sine die at 6:30 o'clock this evening.

The next session of the Association will be held at the Blue Ridge Springs on the second Tuesday in September, 1893. The visiting delegates were given a grand banquet by the druggists of Petersburg to-night at the Petersburg Grays' Armory.

Holt and Gibson in London.

Leesburg, Va., Oct. 10.—Special.—Colonel John Holt had been advertised to speak here to-day, but for some reason did not put in an appearance. His place was, however, very well filled by Dr. M. Q. Holt of Surry county and Colonel Charles H. Gibson of Culpeper.

This was Dr. Holt's first appearance in Loudoun, and the voters were very much pleased with him. He said he was a member of the Farmers' Alliance, but this did not prevent his being a Democrat. He pictured the depressed condition of agriculture throughout the country, and said this depression was caused by three things: First, the demonization of silver by a Republican Congress; second, the tariff, and third, the great amount paid in pensions. Under these three heads he interested the people for one hour and fifteen minutes.

He was followed by Colonel Gibson, who began by saying that he was not a farmer, but he was none the less a man because he was a lawyer instead of a farmer, nor a farmer any the less a man because of that fact, but he had been sent there with the intention of being a farmer, and he was a Democrat. He did not stand where Dr. Holt stood on the silver question, but he (Gibson) stood rather on the Democratic national platform than the State platform; that in his opinion not the silver question, but the tariff laws had caused the great depression, not only to farmers, but to all callings in the South. After in a thoughtful manner discussing the tariff and the Force bill he closed with a forcible appeal to all present to do their duty in November next.

These gentlemen were introduced by their county chairman, Captain George R. Head. They speak in Middleburg, in this county, to-morrow afternoon.

There was an interesting meeting at Farmville, in this county, on Saturday afternoon last, which was addressed by Judge J. B. McCabe. Notwithstanding the farmers in that section are generally complaining of the rain, there was a good crowd of Democrats out. The Judge spoke to them for over an hour, after which the club gave him an unanimous vote of thanks. In this section there are some Third party people, and it is a curious fact that, notwithstanding some of them are cheats and standing some of their friends of Judge McCabe, they could not be prevailed on to come to hear him. It is understood that orders have gone out from their headquarters that they are to listen to no Democrat nor even read a Democratic paper.

The canvass is progressing finely in Loudoun, and Captain Head, the county chairman, will see that a full vote is out.

The Jail Strongly Guarded.

Covington, Va., Oct. 13.—Special.—Sheriff S. G. Ryer has summoned and has on hand fifty men to guard the jail here, as there is foundation for the rumor of trouble.

Last week a man named Keagle, of West Virginia, shot two men by the name of Meadows, five miles north of Dunlap, in this county. The trouble originated about a cow, and Keagle, who was shot, was now lying at the point of death. The sheriff and Kentucky Bill, a detective, got the parties in jail, and the rumor from good authority is that Keagle is on his way here with other men, all armed with Winchester, to rescue the prisoners now in jail. Seven men armed with guns left on the noon train today at Hemetite, about eleven miles west of this place, all heading this way.

Keagle is a tough from West Virginia, and his two companions are also tough. They are said to be backed by the rough element of Rawley county, West Virginia. The sheriff and Kentucky Bill, a detective, got the parties in jail, and the rumor from good authority is that Keagle is on his way here with other men, all armed with Winchester, to rescue the prisoners now in jail. Seven men armed with guns left on the noon train today at Hemetite, about eleven miles west of this place, all heading this way.

University vs. Institute.

Lexington, Va., Oct. 13.—Special.—The foot-ball teams of Washington and Lee University and Virginia Military Institute lined up this evening on the latter's ground. The Varsity team proved unequal to the aggressive tactics of the Military boys, who played at all times a dangerously hard game and blocked well. Several of the Varsity men are being doctored to-night. The score stood 39 to 6 in favor of the cadets, resulting from three touchdowns being kicked and three muffs. The team lined up for Richmond Saturday will play a good game.

A Political Picnic.

Lignum, Va., Oct. 10.—Special.—The Democrats are preparing for a Cleveland-Stevenson picnic at Lignum next Saturday, the 15th.

Died From a Paralytic Stroke.

Fredericksburg, Va., Oct. 13.—Special. John English, a well-known and popular citizen of this place, was stricken with paralysis to-day at his home and died to-night, aged seventy-three. He was a widower, and leaves no children.

REPUBLICAN FACTIONS.

BOWDEN AND ANTI-BOWDENITES.

The National Committee Have Refused to Interfere in Their Quarrel and They Must Settle Their Own Differences.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 13.—Special.—The controversy between the Bowden and anti-Bowden factions has been submitted to the national committee for adjustment. The committee appointed Senator Higgins, of Delaware, and E. McPherson, of the national committee, who heard both sides and then determined to let Norfolk Republicans settle the affair. So the sub-committee advised that each faction select five men, and the ten men selected agree upon the eleven, and that both factions shall agree to abide by the finding of this commission. The anti-Bowden Republicans have signed the papers. Mr. Bowden is out of the city, and his friends will not move in the matter until his return.

A gentleman from Princess Anne county brings the information that the survey and alterations appointed by Judge J. M. Keeling to locate certain boundaries at Linkhorn bay have been met with armed resistance on the part of the oystermen of Princess Anne county.

The townsmen of Linkhorn (Inde, Lyn) have been determined to resist any decision which they deem in violation of their rights. On Monday when the commissioners started to work there were one hundred oystermen on the shore of Linkhorn bay armed with Winchester, and they threatened to shoot the first man who invaded their territory. The oystermen took place in the head with an oar and badly injured. The commissioners have decided not to proceed with the work until the court can furnish protection.

Active preparations are being made for the celebration of "Columbus day," October 21st, and the outlook is that the affair will be a grand success. The Catholic society of Norfolk will have nearly 1,000 men in line.

The cornerstone of the Masonic Temple to be erected at Hickory Grove, in folk county, was laid to-day at 11 o'clock. There were a large number of Masons from this city present. The address was delivered by Dr. M. B. Wharton, of the Freemason-street Baptist church. Dinner was served upon the grounds.

Colonel George Martin, one of the most prominent Republicans in Norfolk, led the party and will vote for Cleveland.

An Old-Time Political Debate.

Fincastle, Oct. 10.—Special.—The first joint political discussion that has taken place in this county for many years was held here to-day. The speakers were: Hon. H. St. George Tucker, Democratic candidate for Congress from this (the Tenth) district, and Hon. Jacob Yost, of Staunton. Mr. Yost opened in a speech of an hour, and presented his side in an earnest and well delivered argument.

He said that he knew both of the candidates of the Democratic party, and would readily admit that in defeating Grover Cleveland, as the Republicans intended to do, they would defeat the best man in the Democratic party. He referred to Mr. Stevenson, and also to Mr. Tucker in complimentary terms. At the close of his speech no applause was heard even from the Republicans, who were largely in the minority, and then there was no enthusiasm.

At the end of Mr. Yost's speech Mr. Tucker appeared, and this was the signal for the wildest cheering, which was interspersed throughout his entire speech. It was his first appearance here, as this county was only added to the Tenth district by the last Legislature. He began by referring to the support that this county had always given to his father, Hon. John Randolph Tucker, when in public life, that he was here preaching the same old Democratic doctrine, and expected the same endorsement of it. He voted against the McKinley's Tariff bill, and when he goes back to Congress will vote to wipe it out. Referring to Mr. Yost's argument in favor of the tariff, he said that his speech would do him good before an audience of Petersburg manufacturers, but Virginia farmers could not relish it. What advantage was it to a Botetourt farmer to have a tariff to protect the manufacturer of tin-plate, as long as he had to buy his cans and pay the tariff? Republican editors are trying to do the logical absurdity of the McKinley bill will increase wages, and at the same time lower the price of the article produced by that labor. Fancy a manufacturer of wagons saying to a farmer, that since he now has to pay higher wages to his workmen that, therefore, he can afford to sell his wagons for less money. Referring to the bounty on the production of sugar, he said, whenever a man raises a pound of sugar the Government calls him a sweet honey, and pays him two cents out of the Treasury, but when a Virginia farmer raises a pound of tobacco, the same Government says to you, cents, and yet this is the Government, which says: "Equal rights to all, special privileges to none."

It would be impossible to give a full synopsis of Mr. Tucker's speech in this brief report. He discussed the Force bill and the evil results that would follow if the Republican party should be returned to power. He was frequently interrupted by applause, and aroused the crowd into an enthusiasm that foreshadowed a good old-time Democratic majority in Botetourt. Both speakers were allowed fifteen minutes each for reply.

Mr. Tucker will make several speeches at other points in the county during the canvass.

A Debate at Floyd Courthouse.

Floyd, Va., Oct. 11.—Special.—Colonel J. Hampton Hoge and Mr. Claude A. Swanson championed the Democratic cause, and J. J. Wilkerson and Haskins Hobson represented the Third party to-day, and it goes without saying that Hoge and Swanson were easily victors in the contest. Wilkerson and Hobson frankly admitted that they were no matches for the gentlemen, and said they relied upon the justice of their cause, which, however, they most signally failed to show. They blamed the Democratic party for all the ills to which flesh is heir politically, and when called to say what laws the Democratic party was responsible for could only cite the Virginia Constitution. The Republicans gave Wilkerson and Hobson a few feeble cheers when they said hard things about the Democrats.

It is the opinion here that Weaver and Field will not poll a baker's dozen in the county, though the bulk of the Republicans will support Jones, the People's party for Congress.

The Political Situation.

Rice Depot, Va., Oct. 13.—Special.—The political situation at this precinct and in this vicinity indicates a slight disaffection in the ranks of the Democracy.

We have conservative Democrats here who cannot be pulled out of the ranks by any dose of the demagogues of Weaverism, but the fifth-wheel speakers have been using around, and the probabilities are that they will scare some of the weak-kneed over into the camp of Weaver and Harrison. These will be few and far between, and the county will be as solid as ever for Democracy.

Organization of a New Club.

Staunton, Va., Oct. 13.—Special.—The Democrats of West End, a suburb of Staunton, organized a splendid club to-night with over 200 members. This is the first political club ever organized in that part of the city, and an earnest of the work to be done in the cause of Democracy. The club has splendid working material, and will give a good return for Cleveland and Stevenson. J. N. McFarland, county treasurer, was elected president.

ed president; W. F. Snapp, vice-president, and E. M. Cushing, secretary. The club will be known as the West End Democratic Club. Addresses were made by Senator Echols, Captain James Bunnard and Colonel J. H. Crozier. Over one hundred persons were present, and great enthusiasm prevailed.

Mr. Breckinridge and Major Holmes Conrad will deliver addresses Saturday at the barbecue. An immense crowd is expected.

Tucker and Cyclone Jim.

Clifton Forge, Va., Oct. 13.—Special.—There was a meeting of the Clifton Forge Democrats to-night. Hon. Harry Tucker, William A. Anderson and Cyclone Jim Marshall were present and made addresses. The speakers were introduced by Mr. C. F. Moore, president of the Cleveland Club, under whose auspices the meeting was held. Mr. Tucker led off and spoke for an hour and a half, and when he took his seat he received almost an ovation. He was followed by Mr. A. Anderson, who spoke more particularly of the McKinley tariff. His speech was an able one. Mr. Marshall was called for, but on account of the late hour he did nothing more than to tell an anecdote or so and urge the people to organize and put up a bold front on November 8th.

Political Speaking at Marlon.

Marion, Va., Oct. 12.—Special.—Mr. J. Brad, Beverly and George R. Cowan are advertised to speak here next Monday in the interest of the Third party. The Democrats expect prominent speakers on the same day, and a joint discussion will probably be had.

Meeting of Agricultural Society.

Heathsville, Va., Oct. 11.—Special.—The Northern Neck Agricultural Association held its second annual fair on its grounds at this place on October 8th, 9th and 10th. The fair was a success, being attended by a large number of people.

The exhibits in the ladies' department were of great excellence, including all kinds of handwork. The exhibits in the farmers' department were but few, but some were fine specimens of the products of this section.

The exhibit of stock was scanty. There were a number of fine trotting horses present, and the races were an attractive feature. Toodles, owned and trotted by Dr. Fisher, of Richmond county, was the fastest horse, making a mile in 2:44 1-2. There was a successful and beautiful balloon ascension by Professor Charles H. Kabrich, of Michigan, on the 6th. The balloon ascended from two to three thousand feet, while the Professor was acting on his trapeze. He then jumped into his parachute and made a safe descent, landing about half a mile from the starting point. The Asbury band of Crisfield, Md., led by Professor Stevenson, furnished excellent music.

Yesterday was our regular county court day, and Hon. James M. Stubbs made a political speech.

A Democratic club has been organized at this place, with J. W. Anderson as president and J. A. Rice as secretary. Thirty members were enrolled, and everything promises success to the Democratic cause.

New Paper—Political Speech.

Appomattox, Va., Oct. 12.—Special.—Mr. William Statum lost $300 worth of tobacco by a recent frost.

The Appomattox and Buckingham Times is a new weekly, which was issued last week. It is a creditable sheet, and is edited by Messrs. James Abbitt and Samuel Ferguson.

The marriage of Mr. W. Almond to Miss Eva Woolridge was celebrated to-day.

Professor Horace Wilkinson has opened a new and flourishing school at this place. Nearly fifty scholars have been enrolled already.

The speech of Judge Mann on the political issues of the day, delivered at the Courthouse last week, was a masterly effort and produced most wholesome influences.

Foster—Foster.

Jetersville, Va., Oct. 13.—Special.—Mr. Newton Foster, of Farmville, and Miss Julia Foster (daughter of Mr. T. G. Foster), of this neighborhood, were married at the Methodist Episcopal church of this place yesterday morning by Rev. W. R. Smith, of Claiborne City. The bridesmaids were: Miss Mattie Foster (cousin of the bride) and Misses Julia Dalby and Pearl Cunningham. The groomsmen were Messrs. Willie and John Beach and Booker Cunningham. Messrs. A. R. Wingo and E. W. Smith were ushers. Miss Poca Dalby presided at the organ and sang. The wedding March. The bride wore a traveling suit of black and white, and after many congratulations the bridal party left for Farmville, their future home.

Suffolk Fair Association.

Suffolk, Oct. 13.—Special.—The first fair held by the Suffolk Fair Association here last week was quite a success. The cash receipts amounted to something over $2,000.

Dr. J. E. Phillips, who has been so ill for several weeks with typhoid fever, is now convalescent.

The Waverboro Store Company.

Waynesboro, Va., Oct. 13.—Special.—Owing to a strike of the millers yesterday evening the Waverboro Store Company have temporarily closed down their plant. It is especially regretted, as they have more orders ahead than they could possibly fill for several months. The company is in excellent shape financially, and will start their plant up again as soon as other hands can be secured.

Rover Found Guilty.

Suffolk, Va., Oct. 13.—Special.—The trial of John Royster for the murder of J. H. Eppes, July, 1891, closed here to-day with a verdict of guilty.

Judge Cox for Cleveland.

New York, Oct. 13.—A special to the World from Cincinnati says: "The fact may be set down that Judge D. Cox, a distinguished Republican, who has been in the month east his vote for Ohio, will next month cast his vote for Cleveland and Stevenson. Judge Cox has been all his life a steadfast and consistent Republican, and his views have always been held in great respect by his party. The announcement of his change will be a thunderbolt."

Diphtheria Raging.

Plain City, O., Oct. 13.—Jerome township, this county, is one big hospital. Every school in the township is closed, and it is estimated that within a radius of 4 miles there are 300 cases of diphtheria. Scarcely a family has escaped. All the surrounding country has quarantined against the township and patrols guard all the roads. Not a particle of business is being done, and all farm work is suspended.

A Cholera Scare.

A reported outbreak of cholera at Helmetta, N. J., created much excitement in that vicinity. Investigation showed that the disease was not cholera, but a violent dysentery, which is almost as severe and dangerous as cholera. Mr. Walter Willard, a prominent merchant of Jamesburg, two miles from Helmetta, says Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has given great satisfaction in the most severe cases of dysentery. It is certainly one of the best things ever made. For sale by Main Street Minor Drug Co., 1007 east Main street.

The Authorities Think They Are On the Murderer's Track—Other News.

MANCHESTER BUREAU RICHMOND TIMES.

1121 HULL STREET, BEATTIE BLOCK.

There is a possible clue to the murderer of Stephen Harris reported by the Commonwealth's-attorney of Chesterfield yesterday. Two negroes and a white man were noticed standing at the place, where the body was found, on the Sunday, Monday following the negroes were seen near Whitby, and there was a pair of trousers found in the same locality. The body had no trousers on when found. It is doubtful whether the missing negro, Charles Temple, of Clover Hill, was murdered, as reported lately. It is thought that he disappeared with some body's horse. Search is still kept up for him.
